

Educational Studies

Adult Learning with Technology

In this program you will learn...

- To design effective adult learning experiences using digital technology.
- The process of conducting needs assessments across diverse learning environments.
- Ways to support adult learners in both formal and informal educational settings.
- Skills for collaborating with clients in industrial, commercial, not-for-profit, and community sectors.
- Techniques for using online tools to build flexible, engaging and inclusive learning experiences.

Program highlights

Online program allows you to study from home and continue to work while you earn your degree.

Flexible learning environment is designed to reach students anywhere in the world.

Practical curriculum leverages the potential of digital technology in lifelong learning.

Engaging videos, group tutorials, discussions and self-directed, problem-based learning.

What will I study?

- Adult Learning
- Assessment for Learning
- Designing Digital Tools
- Design Thinking and Visual Design for Educational Contexts
- Foundations of Learning
- Managing and Developing eLearning Projects
- Trends and Issues in Educational Technologies
- Workplace Learning

What can I do with my degree?

- Adult Literacy Instructor
- College Educator
- Human Resources Manager
- Instructional Designer
- Learning Specialist
- Service Organization Educator
- Workplace/Corporate Education

Continue your learning in Graduate Studies

Graduates of the Bachelor of Arts in Educational Studies program with the required qualifications will receive priority status for acceptance into our Master of Education programs.

Want more information?

Frazer Faculty of Education

61 Charles Street
Oshawa, Ontario L1H 4X8, Canada

905.721.3181

faculty-of-education@ontariotechu.ca education.ontariotechu.ca/undergraduate ontariotechu.ca/edu

LEARN MORE

If you require an alternative format of this publication, contact marketing@ontariotechu.ca.

© University of Ontario Institute of Technology 2025. ONTARIO TECH UNIVERSITY and Design, and Tech with a Conscience are trademarks of the University of Ontario Institute of Technology. D5792