

Educational Studies

Four-year hybrid program

The hybrid nature of the Bachelor of Arts (Honours) in Educational Studies program offers a flexible and engaging undergraduate experience in the field of education. Students may pursue this program on a part-time or full-time basis.

All Educational Studies courses are delivered online (with select in-person options) using a blend of synchronous and asynchronous learning to maximize interaction, collaboration, and community building. Elective courses available both online and in-person offer opportunities to enrich the learning experience and connections to the campus community.

Graduates with the required qualifications will receive priority status for acceptance into our Master of Education programs.
